

OTTENHEIM.

History of Our German Settlement There.

Four years ago Mr. Jacob Ottenheimer first visited this country in search of a suitable location for a colony of German speaking people. The advantages of this section were at once apparent to him. There were enough homes to begin a settlement. The lands were cheap and convenient to railroads and these, together with other advantages, induced him to purchase for himself and associates about 15,000 acres lying between Crab Orchard and Highland.

And under his direction and management the Lincoln Land Company began the work of developing and populating the section, tasks requiring labor, expenditure of money, business management, tact and ability surprising to one not acquainted with the modern methods in colonizing and developing a new country.

New roads had to be constructed, old ones repaired, dwellings, shops, hotels and other houses built, and last, but not least, immigrants had to be induced to settle upon and acquire by purchase parts of the land—labors of almost insuperable difficulties, demanding the exercise of every faculty and quality of business. Mr. Ottenheimer single-handed and alone undertook this work. The field of his labor being from his territory in Lincoln county to Castle Garden in New York, Germany and Switzerland. It has demanded of him marvelous energy, endurance and patience, qualities which he fortunately possessed, and he has accomplished great results. He began at a most unfortunate time; he has had to meet unforeseen circumstances, entirely beyond his control. When the Company began its enterprise times were flush; immediately came business depression, accompanied by a great reduction in that foreign immigration from which the colonization was expected, next and in succession two of the worst seasons for crops in many years; the crop of the following season could only be sold at ruinous prices. Under these circumstances it required much time, tact and good management, involving considerable expense on Ottenheimer's part to prevent a most disastrous discontent among his colonists. Nevertheless he kept up his courage and struggled on and amid all these difficulties has at all times been full of resources and expedient and unflinching in his efforts, and his labors have been rewarded by the location of more than 1,000 immigrants, bringing to the county hundreds of thousands of dollars. Dwellings have been built. The lands have been sub-divided into small farms,

suitable portions of the forests being cleared to fit the lands for cultivation and gardens, orchards, vineyards and fields of grass and grain have changed the natural landscape in all directions.

Not less than $500,000 have been expended in building and repairing roads. Mr. Ottenheimer has also had a good hotel built at the colony for the accommodation of immigrants and the traveling public generally, and the colonists, assisted by the Company, have built here two churches, Lutheran and Catholic; common schools have been established, under the management of colonist officers.

THE LINCOLN LAND COMPANY

in developing and colonizing the lands has of course been put to great expense and labor, for all of which, however, there will be good returns. The lands yet undisposed of have already more than doubled in value and as the colony grows and the territory is developed they will continue to grow in value.

This is the most successful effort at colonization yet undertaken in this State. Its benefits are not only manifest in the territory owned by the colony, but extends to the benefit the whole county by giving an impetus to trade, enterprise and business. At the end of the first two years of Ottenheimer's labor he had located 120 families of thrifty and industrious German and Swiss settlers, when some dissatisfaction between some of the stockholders and Ottenheimer arose, which resulted in Ottenheimer withdrawing from the management. Their differences have all satisfactorily been explained and good feeling exists again. For the last two years very few additions have been added to the colony, and it looks as if the enterprise was abandoned.

The loss of Mr. Ottenheimer's service was a severe blow to the welfare of the Company and the colony. Ottenheimer repeatedly refused to have any more to do with the enterprise as a company, fearing a collapse of the whole, which might be of injury to the settlers and the colony. He suggested that the Company should be wound up, the assets divided among the shareholders, when he would take charge of their separate interests and make that success of the colony which he promised on the start both to his associates and the settlers. Mr. O's advice was taken and the lands and other assets divided among the shareholders. There were sufficient assets to cover each stockholder's investment in full, with prospect of a profit on same.

These are now placed in his hands to do the best he can with. Ottenheimer will give new life to the colony and start it on another boom. He is expected here in a few days to organize a staff of competent assistants, when he will direct and manage from New York, where he is located. We are informed that Ottenheimer intends to make some valuable improvements in the colony, which will materially help the welfare and prosperity of the settlers. Among them are a cheese factory and a poultry yard on a very extensive scale. A Swiss from Ohio is to take charge of the cheese factory and a German from Indiana the poultry yard. The latter has been in the poultry raising business and shipping them to the East for years, and is thoroughly familiar with it. The poultry yard is to be located in the center of the colony. As well as a buying station of all poultry raised in the section, it will be a model to show the settlers how the raising of poultry should be carried on.

Mr. Ottenheimer is now the Land and Emigration Agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, the largest railroad on this continent, whose line extends from the Atlantic Ocean to the Pacific Coast, covering over 6,000 miles of railroad and millions of acres of land. Ottenheimer's duties are enormous, all the emigrants landed in the ports of New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore consigned to this road, as well as the hundreds of emigrant agencies in Europe, coming under his charge and care. Besides this, he is interested in a land enterprise with his son-in-law in the State of Pennsylvania and assumes his former responsibilities in the management of the Lincoln Land enterprise. We extend our hearty welcome on his return and wish him all the success he deserves.

A Palace of Salt.

The people of Salt Lake City are contemplating the erection of a great "salt palace." It would be a structure that would lay in the shade all the ice and even palaces ever constructed. The main part of the structure could be of the finest specimens of rock salt to be found in the quarries, chiseled, carved and artistically arranged, while the interior fittings should be of crystallized work from the lake on a grand scale. Such a palace should be permanent if properly protected from the winter rains. It could be made of the most unique and striking style of architecture; it could be made one of the wonders of the world. When lighted by electricity the structure would have all the sparkle and diamond glitter of the great ice palaces, with the difference in the salt palace's favor that heat would not melt or dim glories in the least. [Virginia News-Enterprise.]

Five Ways to Cure a Cold.

1. Bathe the feet in hot water and drink a pint of hot lemonade. Then sponge with salt water and remain in a warm room.

2. Rub the face in very hot water every five minutes for an hour.

3. Snuff up the nostrils with salt water every three hours.

4. Inhale ammonia or menthol.

5. Take four hours active exercise in the open air.

Summer colds are the worst of all colds, often fatal, as it is then very difficult to protect one's self properly. A turgid dose of quinine will usually break up a cold in the beginning. Anything that will set the blood actively in circulation will do it, whether it be drugs or the use of the Turkish bath. [Med. News.]

Horrible Custom in Spain.

A horrible custom prevails in a certain part of Spain, where, in the villages, the people stand and gaze with as much interest as if the ghastly spectacle was one which gave them great pleasure and merriment and even jokes are passed freely among them. A short time since a young girl who was about to be married and of virginal beauty, her parents dressed her in all her bridal finery, orange wreath and veil included, and laid her, disfigured as she was, in the window to be gazed at by all passers by. After this, one can hardly wonder at the fearful prevalence of smallpox and such like diseases in the southern part of the peninsula. [Cor. San Francisco Chronicle.]

"Amantilly," said the old lady, from the head of the stairs, "what does that young fellow mean by stayin' so late?"

"Excuse me one moment, Mr. Herrington," said Amantilly, and she closed the parlor door softly and whispered hoarsely up the stairs: "I think he means business, ma. You got to bed."—Epoch.

Thwarting Justice.

(To the Editor Interior Journal.)

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 2.—Circuit Court closed here the 23d ult. and the grand jury men were kept busy from the first day of their meeting until the adjournment of court. This was owing to the special instructions of the judge concerning election bribery, and the grand jury undertook to do its duty well and thoroughly in this respect and without regard to party or particular individuals. The result was unexpected and hardly a republican or democratic worker escaped indictment. It caused great consternation among the members of the G. O. P. for a few days. This, however, has all blown over, as the consequences have proven of what particular justice and fitness of material they make judges and Commonwealth attorneys out of in an overwhelming republican district. There were, I understand, over 20 indictments brought against republicans and perhaps half that many against democrats, but it seems that this republican court lets only two or three indictments come to light, and these two against democrats, whose work at the polls told more than any other two workers in November. The better class of citizens knew these indictments, all, were just and in accordance with laws enacted by our legislature, and hoped the enforcement of these laws would check this great evil with which we are so well acquainted, and for an officer or officers to shut their duty, as was done at this court, in order to shield party workers, is a shame on the courts of our old State that nothing short of an impeachment would satisfy.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Sabbath morning collection at the Presbyterian church will be for the education of colored ministers and colored evangelization.

—Rev. S. C. Humphreys has closed meetings at Mt. Lebanon and the Fork with about 50 additions. Rev. W. W. Gardner, D. D., assisted him.—Lancaster News.

—All young ladies wishing to unite with the Young Ladies' Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church will meet in Mrs. Ben Helm's room next Thursday at the close of school hours.

—Eld. Zach. Sweeney is reaping the harvest of the good seed sown by Rev. George O. Barnes at Paris and is "gathering them in" nightly. There had been 20 old confessions at his meeting in that place to last accounts.

—According to the statistics the Congregationalists are the most liberal in their missionary contributions. They gave during the year $1.17 per member; Northern Presbyterians $1.00; Episcopalians $0.50; Northern Methodists $0.50; the Southern Presbyterians 48c; Southern Methodists 23c; Southern Baptists 8c.

—Next Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock the Christian church Sunday School will meet in the auditorium of the Presbyterian church, which has been kindly offered by that congregation. I ask every member to attend and thus express our appreciation of their kindness. Through unavoidable delay it will be impossible to leave the Christian church ready for occupancy before the week following. Rev. H. Barnes, superintendent.

—Rev. and Mrs. Geo. O. Barnes and Miss Marie and George were here last Saturday, the guests of Col. and Mrs. W. B. Welch, where a number of their old friends called to shake hands with them again in the flesh. Each was looking unusually well. Mr. Barnes having assumed a delicate condition to considerable extent. They went on to Lebanon, where they are to hold meetings until Tuesday night, going thence to Louisville to-morrow. Two weeks will be given to that city and then a strike will be made for the Sunny South.

The S. S. Union at Turnersville.

Those who attended the Union at Turnersville Saturday say that it was one of the most enjoyable and instructive of any of the similar meetings held in the county. Visitors were taken care of with great hospitality and everything done to insure them a pleasant time. Following are the resolutions adopted:

1. That we heartily endorse the action of the Kentucky Sunday School Union in holding the meeting at this place on the present date.

2. That we insist on the hearty co-operation of all the Sunday Schools in Lincoln county in this work.

3. That we favor holding these union meetings quarterly at such places as may be determined at each previous meeting.

4. That the various S. S. superintendents urge it upon their respective schools the importance of contributing liberally to this glorious work.

5. That we tender to the citizens of the Turnersville community our heartiest thanks for the unexcelled hospitality and friendly greeting they have extended to us.

6. That these resolutions be published with the proceedings in our most excellent county paper, the Interior Journal.

W. P. WALTON.

The action of the democratic government of Tennessee, Maryland and North Carolina granting certificates to the candidates, who have a majority on the face of the returns, has settled the lower House of Congress beyond all doubt in favor of the republicans by a majority of 7. The governors named might have with considerable reason withheld the certificates to the republicans, because of the irregularities, but they are democrats and would take no advantage of an advantage over an enemy. The horns and tail having gone with the hide to the republicans, it will be interesting to observe what they will do with them. There is one thing certain, the surplus will go.

Gen. CHILMERS, the renegade Mississippian, who was beaten for Congress by about 8,000 votes at the recent election, has gone to Washington to lay the foundation for a contest. En route he stopped at Indianapolis to pay his respects to Harrison and urge the appointment of Mahone to a cabinet position. Mahone is a natural born thief and Chilmers is a scoundrel from choice, so there is no wonder that there is a mutual admiration between them.

The municipal election at Frankfort passed without the disturbance expected after a very heated and bitter campaign, and resulted in the re-election of E. H. Taylor mayor, over Ex-Chief Justice Alvin Duval by a majority of 15. Taylor has a distillery and the old man hasn't, which may account for the milk in the cocoanut.

Mr. CAMERON and other leading members of Congress are for the immediate admission of all the Territories that are eligible to Statehood. The democrats in the House have it in their power in the next three months to take the initiative in this matter and it is to be hoped that they will apply themselves at once to the task.

HENRY WILSON, the fellow who ran against Canth for congress and was snowed under by 3,000 or 4,000 majority, wanted to keep himself in further notice by demanding a recount of the vote, but the governor went right along and issued the certificate of election to Canth without noticing the demand.

LET'S SEE, Wisconsin was one of those States which credulous democrats claimed might go for Cleveland. The returns show how badly they were deceived, for Harrison not only carries it, but does so by 15,261 over Blaine's plurality being 21,271. This is one of those misses that is equal to many miles.

The exact democratic majority in Kentucky on Cleveland electors is 28,666, it is at last officially announced. The prohibition vote is 5,221, the labor 422 and Belva Lockwood 2. The prohibitionists gain 2,119 over the vote of St. John and lose 3,177 as against Fox for governor in 1887.

Isn't it about time the newspapers were catching on to the way to spell Congressman-elect Goodknight's surname? His brother, T. M., postmaster at Frankfort, told us several years ago that the last syllable commenced with a "k" and as he is an "educator" he ought to know.

Here is a warning to gun masticators. Mary Murphy, sweet 16, of Newtown, Conn., went to sleep chewing a piece, which slipped down her throat, lodged in the entrance to the stomach and caused a fatal ulceration.

State pride did not cut as big a figure in Indiana as it might. Harrison ran behind Hovey 150 votes, the majorities for both of whom were secured through the most flagrantly fraudulent practices imaginable.

The democratic majority on Congressmen this year in Kentucky is more than three times greater than in 1886, when it was but 10,882.

We haven't got bunch of a navy to brag of, but it cost $23,000,000 this year and the secretary wants $20,707,187 for next.

Last Friday afternoon two mulattoes, Joe Stodghill and Charlie Crawley, alias Wild Charlie, aged respectively about 15 and 20 years, engaged in the original, thrilling and extremely delightful sport of sniping in empty shotgun at each other. This peace entertainment began at 3:20, Charlie died at 3:30. The death wound, a 2 inch hole, was made by a load of small shot entering the left breast just below the shoulder, and ranging toward the heart. The place where these two pleasureists indulged the agreeable sensations of their merry minds, was in a small inclosed yard at the rear of the old Ray House and adjoining a barber's shop. Next.

To our great surprise, and greater joy, Bro. Barnes and family "dropped in" Friday night. They were on a delayed train on the Cincinnati Southern road, and hearing that they could not connect with the L. & N., they left the train at Banville and came over and spent the night with us. Owing to their late and unexpected arrival, only a few friends had an opportunity to see them. In a few weeks they will leave Kentucky to carry through the hills of the old land. Bro. Barnes has a curious idea that Jesus told the truth when He said He had "not come to destroy men's lives, but to save them." So when he gets to the land that has been sorely scourged by yellow fever, he will be foolish enough to tell the people that the Son of God knew what He was talking about; that the Father is like the Son, and that neither of them ever engaged in the fever business, or anything else that produces rot.

HUSTONVILLE.

The symptoms in the case of Miss Bettie Reid have been more favorable for the last two days and anxious watchers are beginning to entertain faint hopes of her recovery. LATER, Miss Reid died yesterday morning.

Mrs. George Powell, who lived near Hustonville, died Saturday of heart disease. She had been for a considerable time an invalid, was a member of the Christian church and at an advanced age closed a blameless life in peace.

For the information of waiting teachers I am compelled to say that the Dec. draft is not yet received. Let them be careful in having their registers in complete form and thus prevent a return of the document and delay of payment.

No examination in December.

In justice to the S-S. meeting at Turnersville, I regret that I was unable to attend, and hence am unable to report it. I understand that the Bright young secretary was compelled by pressure of duties to abridge his report, and requested one who was present to make out and forward to you a notice of the day's doings. The result has been blushing handed to me as appended below:

I had the pleasure of being present and, to a slight extent, a participant in the closing scenes of Prof. Niles' school at Waynesburg on Friday last. His session has the record of having been pleasant and profitable. His presence proud of their school and liberal in its maintenance. The youth seem bright and ambitious and Waynesburg bids fair to become, and soon, a centre of liberal education. The people seem generally busy, quiet and comfortable. And notwithstanding that Lawyer Davidson and your correspondent were both detained there several hours waiting for a train, business moved with quiet dignity and without apparent consciousness of the presence or curiosity as to the business of the distinguished visitors.

Presos v. I cannot close this note without calling a convention of the indignant correspondents of the beloved but blustering Extension Journal. Brothers and sisters, we who, in our feeble way, in our praiseworthy diffidence, in our enlightened consciousness that our crude productions can have no interest for those who stand daily at the very portals of wisdom and wit, elegance and eloquence, politics and poetry, we must bear our burden bravely. We must refuse to resign. We must wait and wait for the return to earth of "our proud lord of the mountain," wearied with her soaring flight and dazzled with her glimpses of unenvied glory. We must smooth her ruffled plumage, as in days of yore we stood around her downy nest, watched with pride the dangerous gleam of her turning eye and predicted with confidence the strength of wing, the deadliness of her swoop, the royalty of her victories. Let us don't resign.

The Sunday School Convention for Lincoln county was organized at Turnersville Saturday, Dec. 1, with S. E. Overly president and Miss Lonella Bright secretary.

There was a large number in attendance, including representatives from Hubble, Crab Orchard, Hustonville, McKinney, Turnersville and Stanford.

Reports as to the condition of their respective schools were presented by S. S. Myers for Stanford; Christian S. S. J. R. Green for Hustonville and Maryland; Mr. Griggs for Carter's; Frank McClary for Stanford; A. D. Root for Turnersville; Miss Lonella Bright for Hubble and Mr. Hahn for Stanford.

These reports exhibited a healthy condition of the various schools, most of them showing large and regular attendance, growing interest and gratifying progress. There was, however, a general lamentation over the apathy of parents and church members as to fostering and encouraging this great branch of a sanctified education.

Stirring addresses were delivered by Revs. Ben Helm, J. Q. Montgomery, M. Good, Garrison and Ballou and Superintendent Traylor, Myers, Griggs, Root and the indomitable Green.

Judging from these speeches, we must regard the Sunday School as a great and growing enterprise, noble in its aims, healthful and elevating in its influence and assured to its success.

The good people of the Turnersville region fully sustained their well earned reputation as skillful, elegant and abundant entertainers at the festive board and genial dispensers of the good things their hospitality provided.

The writer of these notes begs leave to explain that not having the remotest expectation of acting as reporter, they are simply and imperfectly caught up from memory and are in fact rather the pleasant echoes from the events of a delightful day than a record of that day's proceedings.

NOTICE!

The Farmers National Bank, located at Stanford, Ky., has now settling its affairs and therefore it is hereby given to all holders of the bank's notes and claims against said bank to present them for payment at or before JAMES H. WATKINS, Cashier, at Stanford, Ky.
